Leila Fong joins AACUL as inaugural Manager of Engagement and Events

Washington DC (April 22, 2024) - Leila Fong is joining the American Association of Credit Union Leagues (AACUL) in a newly developed position, Manager of Engagement and Events, effective May 6th. Fong is currently a Project Coordinator at the Illinois Credit Union League where she has been supporting Illinois credit unions since 2018.

AACUL recently announced three evolved strategic pillars to support their updated mission and vision. "Leila will have a key role in implementing our second strategic pillar which focuses on supporting League staff through intentional collaboration and enhanced professional development opportunities," AACUL President Brad Miller shared.

"Leila is passionate about creating valuable content for events and has already fostered meaningful connections within our Credit Union League community in her current role" continued Miller. "She has a proven track record of being a creative thinker with strong organizational skills who can plan, execute, and evaluate a wide range of events and engagement initiatives."

Illinois Credit Union League President Tom Kane is sad about losing Fong but happy for her and AACUL. "Leila did a wonderful job managing a broad range of responsibilities, from training and events to engagement and member resources in Illinois. I'm excited that she will be able to share her skills and experience on a national level," said Kane.
